STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. THOMPSON (for himself and Mr. FRIST):

S. 1931. A bill to provide that the United States Post Office building that is to be located at 9 East Broad Street, Cookeville, Tennessee, shall be known and designated as the "L. Clure Morton Post Office and Courthouse"; to the Committee on Governmental Affairs.

THE L. CLURE MORTON POST OFFICE AND COURTHOUSE DESIGNATION ACT OF 1996

• Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I am pleased to introduce a bill to designate the post office and courthouse in Cookeville, TN, the L. Clure Morton Post Office and Courthouse. I am also pleased that my colleague from Tennessee, Senator BILL FRIST, is joining me as an original cosponsor.

After graduating from the University of Tennessee's School of Law in 1936, L. Clure Morton spent 33 years in private practice and as a special agent with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. In 1970, President Richard Nixon appointed Morton a U.S. district court judge in Nashville, TN. Judge Morton was elevated to chief judge in 1977 and took senior status in 1984. Presently Judge Morton presides in the northeastern division and lives in Cookeville.

Middle Tennessee trial lawyers and judges alike comment on the absolute fairness, intellectual honesty, innovative sentencing, and no-nonsense manner in which Judge Morton conducted his courtroom over the past 26 years. A jurist of great courage, Judge Morton handled many controversial constitutional issues not addressed by his predecessors. He dealt resolutely with the issue of school integration in Nashville and reforms in Tennessee's prison, welfare, and mental health systems.

The city council of Cookeville, TN, recently passed a resolution to recommend this name change of the U.S. post office and courthouse to honor Judge Morton. The resolution reads as follows:

"A resolution to (recommend to the United States Senate) rename the United States Post Office and Courthouse Building, 9 East Broad Street, Cookeville, Tennessee, as the L. Clure Morton Federal Building, to honor Judge L. Clure Morton on the occasion of his retirement.

"Whereas, the Honorable L. Clure Morton has announced his intention to leave active service as a United States judge for the Middle District of Tennessee, and retires to Knoxville; and

"Whereas, Judge Morton was appointed United States District Judge by President Richard Nixon in 1970, and has performed his duties with the utmost dedication and integrity for over 25 years; and

"Whereas, he has handled the entire Northeastern Division docket in Cookeville since 1970, and has presided exclusively in Cookeville, Tennessee since 1984; and

"Whereas, Judge Morton has ruled from the bench without passion or prejudice, seeking only to uphold the Constitution and the laws of the United States; and

"Whereas, Judge Morton is widely respected and admired by his peers and associates in the legal profession and by members of this community; and

"Whereas, this Council desires to recognize the outstanding and lasting contributions made by Judge Morton to the legal profession in middle Tennessee; and

"Whereas, Judge Morton's chambers and courtroom are located in the United States Courthouse and Post Office Building, 9 East Broad Street, Cookeville, Tennessee. Now, therefore, be it

"Resolved by the Cookeville City Council, That we recommend that the U.S. Post Office and Courthouse Building, 9 East Broad Street, Cookeville, Tennessee, which has housed an esteemed member of the judiciary and an outstanding public servant for over a quarter of a century, be renamed the L. Clure Morton Federal Building, in recognition for his significant contributions as a United States District Judge for the Middle District of Tennessee."

Middle Tennessee is a safer, fairer place because Judge Morton served on the bench. This legislation is an appropriate tribute to a man who so positively touched so many middle Tennesseans.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the bill we introduce today be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

CAMPAIGN FINANCE REFORM LEGISLATION

• Mr. ABRAHAM. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce a bill to reform our campaign financing system. I am doing so because I feel that it is important to dispel the all too common notion that candidates are improperly influenced by campaign contributions. In my view it is not difficult for an honest politician to arrange financing in a way that avoids the appearance as well as the reality of corruption. But, because too few candidates choose to impose these rules on themselves, we need legislation to show them the way.

When I ran for the Senate in 1994 I voluntarily imposed limits on the contributions I would accept from out-of-State sources and from political action committees. I refused to accept any more than 20 percent of overall contributions from PAC's. I also refused to accept more than 25 percent of overall contributions from out-of-State donors. I did this because I wanted to make sure that the bulk of my support came directly from Michiganians. And, with this policy in place, I won handily.

I am certain that other candidates would find that they can run successful campaigns with such self-imposed limits. More important, these limits would increase politicians' accountability to their constituents and decrease the appearance of special interest influence. Unfortunately, too few candidates appear willing to take the crucial step of placing limits on their own campaigns.

Thus, to increase accountability, my bill would codify limits similar to the ones I imposed on myself in the 1994 campaign. All Federal candidates would have to follow the same rules, dictating that they receive no more than 20 percent of overall contributions from PAC's and no more than 33 percent of overall contributions from out-of-State/district donors.

Additionally, in my bill, I have proposed a system of PAC democracy. This system would mandate that PAC's receive input from their donor-members, whereby all donor-members would have a vote in how and where the PAC donations are to be distributed.

Furthermore, I have proposed that the individual contribution limit be increased to reflect the monetary realities in 1996, and that this limit be indexed each year after based on the consumer price index.

I believe that campaign finance reform should begin at home—with candidates pledging to abide by their own self-imposed limits. I have codified contribution limits in my own campaign finance reform bill; a bill which I believe has the effect of permitting candidates to speak freely while curbing the influence of special interest and out-of-State moneys. By limiting these nonconstituent contributions, we can increase communication between candidates and voters, enabling voters to make better, more informed decisions concerning who can best represent them.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

SENATE RESOLUTION 276—CONGRATULATING THE PEOPLE OF MONGOLIA

Mr. ROBB submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

S. RES. 276

Whereas Mongolia conducted elections on June 30, 1996, for its unicameral national parliament, the Great Hural;

Whereas Mongolian voters cast their ballots in a peaceful and orderly fashion at 1590 polling places, choosing from among 351 candidates representing 11 different parties and coalitions;

Whereas the primary issues facing Mongolian voters were the scope and pace of continued democratization and economic liberalization;

Whereas the former Communist Mongolian People's Revolutionary Party (MPRP) suffered a dramatic and unexpected loss at the polls, and the Democratic Union Coalition won majority control of the Great Hural;

Whereas the Democratic Union Coalition espoused a policy of strengthening democratic institutions, implementing free market economic reforms, and strengthening the independence of the judiciary;

Whereas voter turnout exceeded 87 percent according to preliminary reports;

Whereas an international election observation team led by former Secretary of State James A. Baker traveled to nine different areas of Mongolia to observe pre-election day preparations and Mongolian citizens voting on election day; and

Whereas the United States election observers judged the election to be free, peaceful, and fair, with the results respected by all sides: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate hereby congratulates the people of Mongolia for—

(1) overwhelmingly embracing democracy through their participation in the June 30, 1996, elections for the national parliament, the Great Hural;

(2) conducting free, fair, and credible elections;

(3) continuing to build on the progress of the past and moving further away from their previous dependence on a communist system; and

(4) serving as an example to the peoples of East Asia who seek further democratization of their countries.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of the Senate shall transmit a copy of this resolution to the President with the request that he further transmit such copy to the Government of Mongolia.

Mr. ROBB. Mr. President, during our short Independence Day recess, there were a number of elections overseas that captured our attention.

Certainly the most important involved the reelection of Boris Yeltsin as President of Russia—a positive development for democracy abroad, and a defeat for the Communist Party there that unfortunately maintains the support of a sizable portion of the electorate.

Another election that might have gone otherwise unnoticed, except for the stunning results which it produced, occurred in Mongolia on June 30.

I had the opportunity to join with former Secretary of State Jim Baker and several other distinguished observers in visiting polling stations across the plains of Mongolia to watch democracy in action.

Mr. President, what occurred in Mongolia a week ago Sunday was truly historic.

Parliamentary elections there produced dramatic results: Democratic reformers upended the ruling former Communist Party seized majority control of the legislature for the first time, and are now in position to set this vast country on a bold new course.

The seismic political shift in Mongolia was unexpected, to say the least.

The ruling Mongolian People's Revolutionary Party [MPRP] held 71 of 76 seats in the Great Hural, Mongolia's unicameral legislature.

U.S. Embassy cable reporting just days before the vote suggested that the democratic opposition parties would be doing well to win 25 seats. But Embassy officials cautioned that their sources believed that was something of an optimistic projection.

Mr. President, the democratic opposition won twice that number of seats and assumed majority responsibility for Mongolia's future in the process.

The electoral math confirms that 50 of 76 parliamentary seats were won by the Democratic Union Coalition Party.

The former Communist Mongolian People's Revolutionary Party dropped from 71 to 24 seats in the Great Hural.

The MPRP, Mongolia's ruling party since 1923, was unceremoniously
